Whether or not pupils opt to take an examination, perhaps the greatest benefit of taking LAMDA lessons is the remarkable impact they have on creating a positive self-image and self-assurance, a clear speaking voice, eye contact and assured body language. These become second nature allowing for confident engagement with various types of people in so many situations; skills which are invaluable both socially and in today's competitive work market.

Pupils are taught in pairs or solo for 40 minutes. Please note that pupils in Years 9-11 may on occasion need to leave an academic lesson for their LAMDA lesson. This is organised on a rotational basis to minimise disruption.

The cost of LAMDA lessons is: £34 for a single, £17 for a pair, £12 for a group. Pupils can take more than 1 lesson per week. The fees for sitting the exams range from approximately £65 to £100 depending on the grade taken and whether solo or duologue.

Should you wish to cancel LAMDA lessons at any point, please note that there is a notice period of a full half term i.e. written notice must be given to the Head of LAMDA (amelia.blackwell@sedberghschool.org) before the beginning of term for lessons to stop at half term.
